Moving so much more than cars.

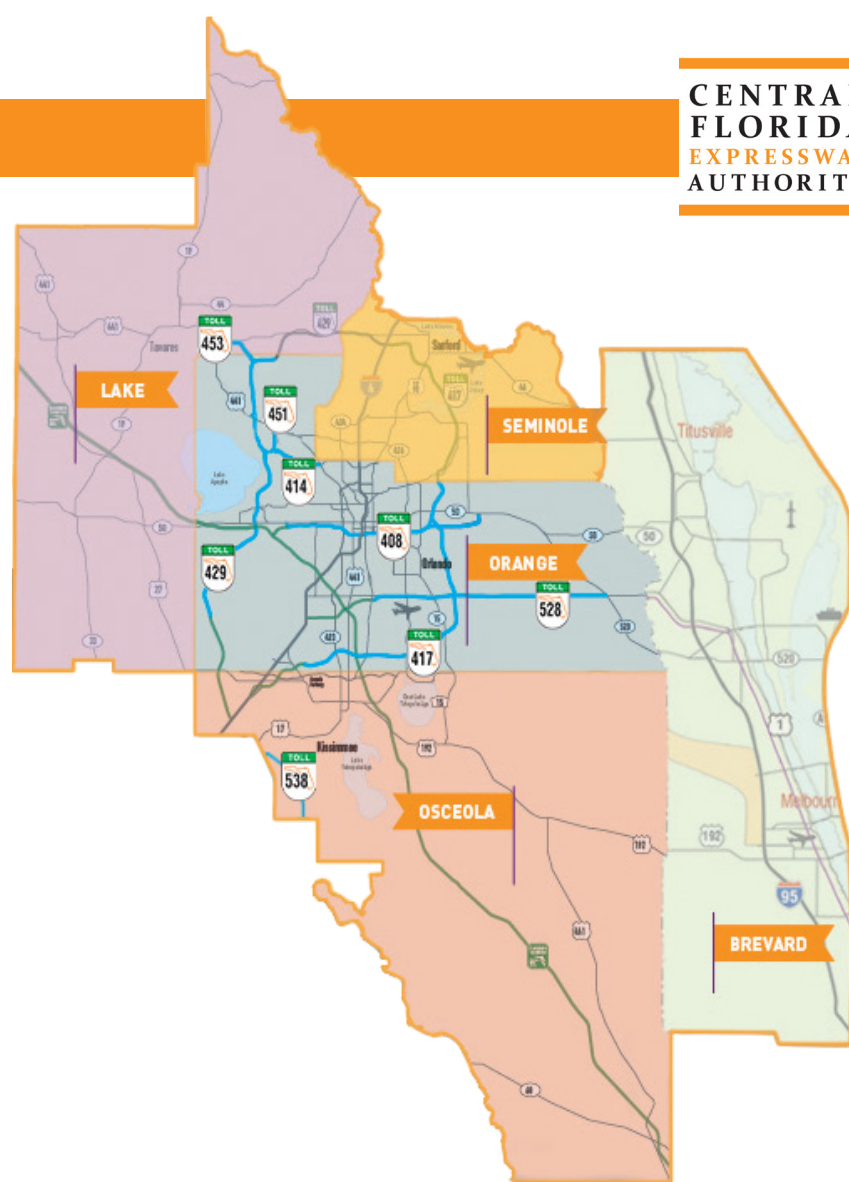

CFX AT A GLANCE

The Central Florida Expressway Authority (CFX) is an independent, locally-controlled toll agency responsible for construction, maintenance and operation of 125 miles of expressway.

CFX serves more than 3 million residents in five counties, plus an estimated 75 million visitors each year. Established in 2014 as a regional expressway authority; membership includes the City of Orlando, and Brevard, Lake, Orange, Osceola, and Seminole counties.

All CFX operations are funded solely by tolls - CFX does not receive state or federal tax dollars. Tolls collected on CFX expressways are reinvested locally, funding the maintenance, operations and construction of our expressway system.
